This House has time and again expressed its firm belief that the future of Pakistan and well being of its people are linked to the continuity of democracy and democratic institutions, while a constitutional government is the main source of resolution of national issues, strengthening of federation and empowering people of Pakistan.

This House believes that the rule of separation of powers should strictly be observed for strengthening of democracy and democratic institutions and all the state institutions should work within the parameters set by the constitutions. This assembly believes that deviation from the fundamental rule of separation of powers and meddling of one institution into other will be harmful for democratic process, and this should be avoided. This House also decides that the rule of separation of powers and non-interference in each other's affairs should be upheld.
