CHAPTER – III ASSESSMENT AND TREATMENT

Care in the Community.

7. Community based mental health services shall be setup for providing mentally disordered persons, their families and others involved in their care with guidance, education, rehabilitation, after care and preventive measures and other support services on an informal basis.

Explanation. – For purposes of this section, community shall include, family, home, workplace, educational institutions and other places where care and after care can be provided on an informal or voluntary basis.

Care and Treatment on an informal or voluntary basis.

8. Any person who himself seeks or is brought by a relative or is referred by a medical practitioner or is referred by any authority for forensic psychiatric assessment, shall be examined by a psychiatrist or a medical officer nominated by him who shall record his findings in writing and decide that the patient be treated on an out-patient basis or otherwise. Any such person on withdrawal of his consent may be discharged in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

Detention of a patient for assessment, etc.

9. (1) For the purposes of this Act, there are four types of detention of a patient, namely:-

- (a) admission for assessment;

- (b) admission for treatment;
- (c) urgent admission; and
- (d) emergency holding.

(2) The duration of a patient for each type of detention shall be as follows:—

- (a) for the purposes of assessment the period of detention shall be up to 28 days from the date of application made under section 10;
- (b) for the purposes of treatment the period of detention shall be up to six months from the date of application made under section 11, and is renewable under the provisions of the said section;
- (c) for the purposes of urgent admission the period of detention shall be up to 72 hours from the time of application made under section 12; and
- (d) for the purposes of emergency holding already in hospital, the period of detention shall be up to 24 hours from the time of application made under section 13.

Admission for assessment.

10. (1) A patient may be admitted to a Psychiatric Facility and detained there for the period allowed by subsection (4) in pursuance of an application made in accordance with sub-sections (2) and (3).

(2) An application for admission for assessment may be made in respect of a patient on the following grounds :-

- (a) he is suffering from mental disorder of a nature or degree which warrants the detention of the patient in a psychiatric facility for assessment (or for assessment followed by initial treatment) for at least a limited period;
- (b) he ought to be so detained in the interests of his own health or safety or with a view to the protection of other persons; and

(c) specifying that care and treatment in the community and on an informal and voluntary basis is not possible.

(3) An application for admission for assessment shall be founded on the written recommendations in the prescribed form of two medical practitioners, one of whom should be a medical officer and one should be a psychiatrist, or where a psychiatrist is not available, a medical practitioner with experience in psychiatry, including in each case a statement that in the opinion of such medical practitioners the conditions set out in subsection (2) above are complied with.

(4) A patient admitted to a psychiatric facility in pursuance of an application for admission for assessment may be detained for a period not exceeding 28 days beginning with the day on which application was made under this section, but shall not be detained after the expiration of that period unless before it has expired he has become liable to be detained by virtue of a subsequent application, order or direction under the provisions of this Act.

(5) Where a psychiatrist deems it fit he may discharge the patient from detention and advise the patient to continue treatment on voluntary basis.

(6) The patient, his relative or guardian shall have the right of filing only one appeal against the order of detention under this section to a Court of Protection within a period of 14 days from the day on which the application was made. The decision of the Court of Protection shall be final for the period of detention under this section.

Admission for treatment.

11. (1) A patient may be admitted to a psychiatric facility and detained there for the period allowed by the following provisions, in pursuance of an application made in accordance with this section.

(2) An application for admission for treatment may be made in respect of a patient on the following grounds:-

(a) he is suffering from mental illness, severe mental impairment, severe personality disorder or mental impairment and his mental disorder is of a nature or degree which makes it appropriate for him to receive medical treatment in a psychiatric facility; and

- (b) it is necessary for the health or safety of the patient or for the protection of other persons that he should receive such treatment and it cannot be provided unless he is admitted under this section.

(3) An application for admission for treatment shall be founded on the written recommendations, on the prescribed form of two medical officers, one of whom shall be an approved psychiatrist, including in each case a statement that in the opinion of such medical officers the conditions set out in sub-section (2) above are complied with; and each such recommendation shall include –

- (a) such particulars as may be prescribed of the grounds for that opinion so far as it relates to the conditions set out in clause (a) of that sub-section; and
- (b) a statement of the reason for that opinion so far as it relates to the conditions set out in clause (b) of that sub-section, specifying, whether other methods of dealing with the patient are available and, if so, why they are not appropriate.

(4) A patient admitted to a psychiatric facility in pursuance of an application under this section may be detained in a psychiatric facility, for a period not exceeding six months allowed by clause (b) of section 9 but shall not be so detained or kept for any longer period unless the authority for his detention is renewed under this section –

- (a) the authority for detention of a patient may, unless the patient has previously been discharged, be renewed from the expiration of the period of six months referred to in sub-section above, for a further period of six months; and
- (b) from the expiration of any period of renewal under clause (a) above, for a further period of one year, if necessary and so on for periods of one year at a time.

(5) The patient, his relative or guardian may file an appeal against the order of detention under this section to a Court of Protection:

Provided that only one appeal shall lie during the subsistence of each period of detention.

Admission for assessment in cases of urgency.

12. In any case of urgent necessity, an application for admission for assessment may be made in respect of a patient in accordance with the following provisions:—

- (a) an urgent application may be made either by a relative of the patient or medical officer; and every such application shall include a statement that it is of urgent necessity for the patient to be admitted and detained under this section and that compliance with the provisions relating to an application for treatment, under section 11 would involve undesirable delay;
- (b) an urgent application shall be sufficient in the first instance if founded on the medication recommendation of an approved psychiatrist or his nominated medical officer and if practicable, the nominated medical officer shall not be the same medical officer referred to in sub-clause (i) above; and
- (c) an urgent application shall cease to have effect after 72 hours from the time when the patient is admitted under this section to the psychiatric facility unless—
 - (i) the second medical recommendation required by section 11 above is given and received by the psychiatrist in-charge of the facility within the said period of 72 hours; and
 - (ii) that such recommendation and the recommendation referred to in sub-clause (i) above together comply with all the requirements as contained in section 17.

Emergency Holding.

13. If in the case of a patient who is receiving treatment for mental disorder as an inpatient in a psychiatric facility who wishes or attempts to leave and it appears to a medical officer –

- (a) that the patient is suffering from mental disorder to such a degree that it is necessary for his health or safety or for the protection of others, for him to be prevented from leaving the facility; and

- (b) that it is not practicable to secure the immediate attendance of the psychiatrist in charge or his nominated medical officer for the purpose of furnishing a medical recommendation, the medical officer shall record that fact in writing and in that event the patient may be detained in the hospital for a period of 24 hours from the time when the fact is so recorded or until the earlier arrival of the psychiatrist in charge or his nominated medical officer.

Emergency Powers.

14. Where in case of an emergency a medical practitioner is unable to obtain informed consent in writing, he may administer treatment, notwithstanding the provision of section 51, that in his professional opinion, is necessary for—

- (a) saving the patient's life; or
- (b) preventing serious deterioration of his condition; or
- (c) alleviating serious suffering by the patient; or
- (d) preventing the patient from behaving violently or being a danger to himself or to others.

Application by whom to be presented.

15. (1) Subject to the provisions of subsection (3) the application on a prescribed form shall be presented by the husband or wife of the patient or, if there is no husband or wife or the husband or wife is prevented by reason of mental disorder, absence from Pakistan or otherwise from making the presentation, by the nearest relative of the patient.

(2) If the application is not presented by the husband or wife, or, where there is no husband or wife, by the nearest relative of the patient, the application shall contain a statement of the reasons why it is not so presented, by the husband, wife or the nearest relative and of the connection of the applicant with the patient, and the circumstances under which he presents the application.

(3) No person shall present an application unless he has attained the age of majority and has within fourteen days before the presentation of the application, personally seen the said patient.

(4) The application shall be signed and verified by the applicant, and the statement of prescribed particulars by the person making such statement.

Effect of application for admission.

16. (1) An application for the admission of a patient to a psychiatric facility under this Act, duly completed in accordance with the section under which he is being admitted, shall be sufficient authority for the applicant or any person authorized by the applicant, to take the patient and convey him to a psychiatric facility at any time within the following periods, that is to say:—

- (a) in the case of an application made other than an emergency application within the period of 14 days beginning with the date from which the patient was last examined by an approved Psychiatrist or medical officer, as the case may be, before giving a medical recommendation for the purposes of the application; and
- (b) in the case of an emergency application, under section 12, the period of 24 hours beginning at the time when the patient was examined by an approved psychiatrist or his nominated medical officer giving the medical recommendation which is referred to in section 11 above, or at the time when the application is made, whichever is the earlier.

(2) Where a patient is admitted within the said period to a psychiatric facility as mentioned in sub-section (1), on an application made under sections 10, 11 or 12, as the case may be, the application shall be sufficient authority for the hospital management to detain the patient in the said facility in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

(3) Any application for the admission of a patient under sections 10, 11 or 12, as the case may be, and which appears to be duly made and is founded on the necessary medical recommendations, may be acted upon without further proof of the signature or qualification of the person by whom the application or any such medical recommendation is made or given or of any matter of fact or opinion stated therein.

(4) Once a patient is admitted to a psychiatric facility in pursuance of an application for admission for treatment, any previous application under this Act by virtue of which he was detained in a psychiatric facility shall cease to have effect.

General provision as to applications and medical recommendation.

17. (1) General provision as to applicants: —

- (a) subject to provisions of this section, an application for admission for assessment or for treatment may be made either by the nearest relative of the patient, by an approved psychiatrist or nominated medical officer; and every such application shall specify the qualification of the applicant to make such an application;
- (b) every application for admission shall be addressed to the hospital management to which admission is sought;
- (c) before or within a rescannable time after an application for the admission of a patient for assessment is made by an approved psychiatrist or a nominated medical officer, as the case may be, he shall take such steps as are practicable to inform the person (if any) appearing to be the nearest relative of the patient, that the application is to be or has been made;
- (d) none of the applications mentioned in sub-section (1) above shall be made by any person in respect of a patient unless that person has personally seen the patient within the period of 14 days ending with the date of application;
- (e) any recommendation given for the purposes of an application for admission for treatment, may describe the patient as suffering from more than one form of mental disorder, namely, severe mental impairment, severe personality disorder, mental impairment, or any other disorder or disability of mind:

Provided that the application shall be of no effect unless the patient is described in each of the recommendations as suffering from the same form of mental disorder Whether or not he is also described in either of those recommendations as suffering from another form; and

- (f) each of the applications mentioned in subsection (1) above shall be sufficient if the recommendations on which it is founded are given either as separate recommendations, or as a joint recommendation signed by the medical officer and a psychiatrist.

(2) General provisions as to medical recommendations: —

- (a) where recommendations are required for the purposes of an application under this Act, they shall be signed on or before the date of the application, and shall be given by a medical officer or an approved psychiatrist who have examined the patient either together or separately, but where they have examined the patient separately not more than five days must have elapsed between the days on which those separate examinations took place; and
- (b) of the medical recommendations given for the purposes of any application as referred under clause (a) above, one shall be given by an approved psychiatrist and unless that psychiatrist has previous acquaintance with the patient, the other such recommendation shall, if practicable, be given by a medical officer who has such previous acquaintance.

Rectification of applications and recommendation.

18. (1) If within the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which application was made in respect of the patient to be admitted to a psychiatric facility for assessment or for treatment the application or any medical recommendation given for the purposes of the application is found to in any respect incorrect or defective, the recommendation or application may, within that period and with the consent of the management of the psychiatric facility, be amended by the person by whom it was signed; and upon such amendment being made the application or recommendation shall have effect and shall be deemed to have had effect as if it had been originally made as so amended.

(2) Without prejudice to sub-section (1) above, if within the period mentioned in that sub-section it appears to the management of the psychiatric facility that one of the two medical recommendations on which the application for admission of a patient is founded is insufficient to warrant the detention of the patient in pursuance of the application, they may, within that period, give notice in writing to that effect to the applicant; and where any such notice is given in respect of a medical recommendation, that recommendation shall be disregarded, but the application shall be, deemed always to have been, sufficient if –

- (a) a fresh recommendation complying with the relevant provisions of this Act (other than the provisions relating to the time of signature and the interval between examinations) is furnished to the hospital management within the period; and
- (b) the fresh recommendation, and the other recommendation given earlier on which the application is founded, together comply with those provisions.

(3) Where the medical recommendations upon which an application for admission is founded are taken together insufficient to warrant the detention of the patient in pursuance of the application notice under subsection (2) above may be given in respect of either of those recommendations; but this subsection shall not apply in a case where the application is of no effect by virtue of clause (e) of sub-section (1) of section 17 above.

(4) Nothing in this section shall be construed as authorizing the giving of notice in respect of an application made as an emergency application, or the detention of a patient admitted in pursuance of such an application after the period of 72 hours referred to in clause (iii) of section 12 above unless the conditions set out in clauses (a) and (b) of that section are complied with or would be complied with apart from any error or defect to which this applies.

Mentally disordered persons found in public places.

19. (1) If an officer in charge of a police station finds in a place to which the public have access, a person whom he has reason to believe, is suffering from a mental disorder and to be in immediate need of care or control the said officer may, if he thinks it necessary to do so in the interest of that person or for the protection of other persons, remove that person to a place of safety, which means only a Government run health facility, a Government run psychiatric facility, or hand him over to any suitable relative who is willing to temporarily receive the patient.

(2) A person removed to a place of safety under sub-section (1) of this section shall be produced by the police or any NGO or Social Welfare Department before the nearest Magistrate within a period of 24 hours of taking him into such protection excluding the time necessary for journey from the place where he was taken into such protection to the Court of the Magistrate and shall not be detained beyond the said period without the authority of the Magistrate.

(3) If a person is produced before the Magistrate under this section, and if in his opinion, there are sufficient grounds for proceeding further, the Magistrate shall—

- (a) examine the person to assess his capacity to understand;
- (b) cause him to be examined by a medical officer; and
- (c) make such inquiries in relation to such person as he may deem necessary.

(4) After the completion of the proceeding under sub-section (3), the Magistrate may pass a reception order authorizing the detention of the said person as an in-patient in a psychiatric facility. The reception order shall include certification, by the Magistrate, to the effect that such person is mentally disordered and specification that it is necessary to pass such order in the interest of the health and personal safety of that person or for the protection of others:

Provided that if any relative or friend of the mentally disordered person desires that the mentally disordered person be sent to any particular psychiatric facility for treatment therein and undertakes in writing to the satisfaction of the Magistrate to pay the cost of maintenance of the mentally disordered person in such psychiatric facility, the Magistrate shall, if the medical officer in charge of such psychiatric facility consent, make a reception order for the admission of the mentally ill person into that hospital and detain there:

Provided further that if any relative or friend of the mentally disordered person enters into a bond, with or without sureties for such amount as the Magistrate may determine, undertaking that such mentally disordered person shall be properly taken care of and shall be prevented from causing any injury to himself or to others, the Magistrate may, instead of making a reception order, hand him over to the care of such relative or friend.

CHAPTER – IV LEAVE AND DISCHARGE

Order of leave.

20. (1) An application in the prescribed form, for leave of absence in regard to any mentally disordered person (not being a mentally disordered prisoner) who is formally admitted in any psychiatric facility may be made to the psychiatrist in charge of the facility, by a relative who is desirous of taking care and custody of such mentally disordered person for a specified period, requesting that he may be allowed on his application to take care and custody of such a patient and subject to the assessment by a psychiatrist, in charge of the said facility, who may allow or deny the said application:

Provided that no application under this sub-section shall be made by a person who has not attained the age of majority.

(2) Every application under sub-section (1) shall be accompanied by an undertaking –

- (a) to take proper care of the mentally ill patient;
- (b) to prevent the mentally ill patient from causing injury to himself or to others; and

(c) to bring back the mentally ill patient to the said facility on the expiry of the period of leave.

(3) On receipt of the application under sub-section (1), the psychiatrist in charge may grant leave of absence to the mentally ill person for such period as he may deem necessary and subject to such conditions as may, in the interests of the personal safety of the mentally ill patient or for the protection of others, be specified in the order.

(4) In case a patient is not returned by the relative after a specified period of leave, the said psychiatrist shall report to the magistrate, in whose jurisdiction the psychiatric facility is situated, and the referring authority and the Magistrate if satisfied, may direct the police to recover and return the said patient to the psychiatric facility.

(5) In any case where a patient is absent from a psychiatric facility in pursuance of order of leave granted under this section and it appears to the psychiatrist that it is necessary to do so in the interest of the patients' safety or for the protection of other persons, he may by notice in writing given to the patient or to the person for the time being in-charge of the patient, revoke the leave of absence and recall the patient to the psychiatric facility.

(6) If after the passage of reasonable time after the notice as given under sub-section (5) above, the patient does not return or is not returned, then the psychiatrist may report to the Magistrate and the referring authority of the reasons of revoking the leave of absence.

(7) If the Magistrate is satisfied with the report of the psychiatrist and the reasons as mentioned in this section, he may direct the police to locate and produce the patient before him on a specified date and the Magistrate after hearing the patient, the person in charge and the concerned psychiatrist or their representatives, may make an order placing the patient in the psychiatric facility or allow him to continue being in the care and custody of the person in charge or may make such other orders as he may deem fit.

(8) Without prejudice to what has been stated above in this section, the period of detention under provisions of section 10 or 11 shall continue during the period for which order of leave was granted:

Provided that a patient in whose favour order of leave has been granted under this section shall not be recalled, after he has ceased to be liable to be detained for the periods specified under section 10 or 11, unless he is absent, at the expiration of period specified under the above referred sections, without leave from the psychiatric facility.

Discharge of a patient.

21. (1) The psychiatrist in-charge of the treatment of a patient, may by order in writing, direct discharge of the patient at any time he deems it appropriate.

(2) Where any order of discharge is made under sub-section (1), in respect of a person who has been admitted or is undergoing treatment as a patient in pursuance of an order of a referring authority, a copy of such order shall be immediately forwarded to that authority by the psychiatrist in charge.

(3) Any person admitted in a psychiatric facility under an order made in pursuance of an application made under this Act, may be discharged on an application made to the psychiatrist in charge:

Provided that no patient shall be discharged under this section if the psychiatrist in charge certifies in writing that the patient is unfit to be discharged for reasons of his own health and safety or the safety of others.

Application by a patient for discharge.

22. (1) Any patient, not being a mentally disordered prisoner, who feels that he has recovered from his mental disorder, may make an application to the Magistrate for his discharge from the psychiatric facility.

(2) The Magistrate may after making such inquiry as he may deem fit, pass an order discharging the person or dismiss the application:

Provided that no subsequent application for discharge shall be made by the patient during the said period of detention.

Discharge of a detained person found not to be mentally disordered after assessment.

23. If any person admitted in a psychiatric facility is subsequently found not to be mentally disordered and is capable of taking care of himself and managing his affairs, an approved psychiatrist, of the said facility shall forthwith, discharge such person from the psychiatric facility and notify the fact to the referring authority and the nearest relative.

Duty of hospital management to inform relatives of the discharge.

24. Where a patient detained under this Act in a psychiatric facility is to be discharged, the management of the psychiatric facility shall take such steps as are practicable to inform the relative (if any), of the patient and or the applicant (if any), and or any suitable person who is willing to accept the responsibility to take care and custody of the said patient; and that information shall, if practicable, be given at least seven days before the date of discharge.

Application for discharge to Magistrate.

25. Where any patient is admitted under section 10 or 11, his relatives may apply to the Magistrate within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the psychiatric facility is situated for his discharge and the Magistrate may, in consultation with psychiatrist in charge of the treatment, after giving notice to the person at whose instance he was admitted and after making such inquiry as he may deem fit, either allow or dismiss the application:

Provided that no subsequent application for discharge shall be made during the said period of detention.

Notice about serious illness or death.

26. If a patient becomes seriously ill or dies, that fact shall be notified to his nearest relatives, if known or on whose application the patient was admitted and also to the authority by whom the patient was referred to the psychiatric facility.

Transfer and removal.

27. Transfer and removal of patient placed in a psychiatric facility to another such facility in [any other Province or territory of Pakistan] shall be carried out in accordance with any general or special order of the Government with the consent of the Government of that Province or territory provided that a notice of such intended transfer or removal has been given to the applicant.
